

Professional Licensure Disclosure

Boise Bible College offers no programs that lead to professional licensure or certification.

- The process whereby a student or graduate becomes ordained into ministry varies by denomination. Boise Bible College does not offer ordination.
- Christian Psychology students who wish to become licensed professional counselors must pursue a graduate degree in counseling.
- The Christian Teaching degree is intended primarily for students who wish to teach in church-based schools. Students who wish to become certified teachers are encouraged to pursue certification through the American Board for Certification of Teacher Excellence (ABCTE) program or by earning a Masters of Arts in Teaching (MAT).
